

Member Benefits

1. NETWORKING

Ask members what they value most about ACUBSS and they will cite the networking opportunities that come from attending conferences, educational programs and committee meetings. Members frequently use the ideas generated at these sessions as problem solving strategies when they return to campus.

2. INDUSTRY CONTACTS

To help building service supervisors keep abreast of the latest products and equipment in their field, and to provide a venue for networking with industry suppliers, ACUBSS sponsors a Showcase at its annual conference. This educational exhibition offers a convenient way to preview new products and equipment while discussing your needs with industry representatives.

3. LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Members are encouraged to serve on the Association's leadership positions. The structure of the Board and Officers is based on volunteer leadership—a method for shaping policy and establishing valuable peer contacts that has proven its effectiveness throughout ACUBSS history. Members have the option of holding elected leadership positions.

4. EDUCATION

ACUBSS members benefit from a wide array of educational programming. The annual conference provides management-oriented topics. Recent conferences have focused on recycling, managing change, computer applications in building services, benchmarking, sexual harassment and emergency preparedness. Our Association offers up-to-date presentations on current topics and an opportunity for interaction and networking at the grassroots level
